

March Reflection 2017

The month of March has seen the children in the Kookaburra room practice many skills and attempt important tasks. The hammering table has been a place of learning. The children are learning about safety, cause and effect and hand eye coordination as well as some skills that they may need in the future. Our mini Yoga lessons are a fun time where the children are stretching, bending and learning about breathing which is something we all take for granted but when regulated can help relax and calm little bodies. Our boat building experience has given the children some idea about wind and flotation as not all the boats we made floated, there were some minor changes required to relocating the sail. The children also learnt that water inside the boat was not a good idea.

There are many small play spaces in the yard where the children can meet and have little conversations with each other. They can imagine and discover in a safe and cosy nook.
