

March Reflection 2017

This month we have seen the children getting more involved with the daily routine of the Koala room and also seeing the children helping each other with daily tasks.

We have seen the children assisting another child in playing in different activities around the room and also passing things to her if she drops toys on the floor.

The children have also been busy helping staff plant succulents, tickle the roots, watering them after and then they read a story called "roots" after during group time.

We are also continuing to further explore our goal with S.T.E.M which is to explore spatial awareness.

Learning: Children are confident and involved learners

Children develop dispositions for learning such as curiosity, cooperation, confidence, creativity, commitment, enthusiasm, persistence, imagination and reflexivity

Wellbeing: Children have a strong sense of wellbeing

Children become strong in their social, emotional and spiritual wellbeing

Community: Children are connected with and contribute to their world

Children develop a sense of belonging to groups and communities and an understanding of the reciprocal rights and responsibilities necessary for active civic participation
